

STAND & DELIVER

Presentation Skills Part 1

Communication Training

Learning Objectives

After participating your team should be able to:

- Present from a place of personal authenticity
- Use storytelling, drama, tone, emotion and physicality to engage audiences
- Understand what makes a presenter unique and know how to amp up personality

Duration

1 day: 9am – 5pm

Number of participants

Due to the amount of 1-1 coaching and feedback, maximum participants is 10

Who should attend

All levels, all disciplines.
Any combination.

www.combustionco.com

hookup@combustionco.com

416-725-4393

About the Workshop

Definitely not your mother's presentation skills training. Stand & Deliver is the globally acclaimed workshop that focuses on unleashing the authentic self in every presenter. Born in the halls of ad agencies and now delivered to industries and disciplines across the board, Stand & Deliver has the reputation for being a total game changer. The experience peels back the covers on the psychology and dynamics of persuading audiences; how to use everything you've got going for you – and let go of everything that's not.

Whether you walk in with years of experience or as a presentation newbie, you'll see your skills amp up from minute to minute as you're taken through a series of super challenging, revealing, sometimes even soul baring experiences designed to help you figure out exactly who you are and how that comes across in the room (for good or for bad). Real-time, passionate and constructive feedback from world-renowned facilitators will help you to fly your freak flag high and be your most authentic and credible self as a result.

Agency professionals, marketers, sales people, executives – you name it – have all taken Stand & Deliver and left feeling more confident, in control, empowered, skilled and without a doubt, absolutely changed for the better. It's been called "better than therapy," "super awesome," "legendary," "absolutely life-changing," and "the most transformational training I've ever had in my life," and we guarantee it will be for you too.